

The cream of the crop

straight from the past

I walk in to you /

it's been a while

so how are you

thanks I'm fine

doing my best

been working in a shop

For several years

you look so strange

you have changed

you say "everything is fine" what's behind this line?

and then you say

nothing is the way you wanted your life is a mess

might be hopeless

and you see

Ref:

time is running out

straight from the past
I drop into your life
it's been a while
Can you tell me why

I've tried everything and canceled it all
I wanted more
the cream of the crop

straight from the past
you speak to me
nothing's achieved
what do I've left now?

straight from my mouth
I hear myself say
All be okay
what's behind this line?
