

stop for a minute solo

when we wake up
we regret it
we were thoughtless
last night

we cut ourselves down
from the gallows
and we know we are revived the wild man inside of me broke free
and we have failed this morning

stop for minute
think about it
we know that we can't
turn back time

stop for a moment

you look desperate
and my eyes won't flee
and time stands still that morning crestfalling we sit here and feeling at a loss

and we freeze to ice on this morning a thought flashes through the scene and I hold your hand again things in life will always change but we have to go through them

you know that we can't
